FALL 2009 – OPTION II and III

Students accepted to our Option II and III programs also participate in the European Identity Seminar so they should arrive in Berlin with the Option I students on August 25. Classes at the French universities are expected to begin in mid-September, but their official calendars are not yet available. Students should be prepared to stay through the end of the final exam period (expected to end shortly before Christmas). When these programs include additional days beyond Option I, a supplemental program fee will be charged to cover extra room and board expenses. A complete calendar will be sent to Option II and III applicants as soon as it is available.
